son & Co.'s goods, yesterday, realized $1,200.

THERE will be a moonlight band concert, at Emma Square, on Monday evening.

The prisoner, with the ball attached to his leg, gets his fellow prisoners to carry it for him as he walks.

The circus is now announced to perform here on Thursday evening.

The Mission Children's Society will meet at Mr. J. T. Waterhouse's this evening.

Mr. John Gracias notifies he will no longer be responsible for debts contracted by his wife.

Mr. John D. Spreckels, accompanied by his wife and family, is expected by the Mariposa on Tuesday.

The sale of the property, in the for this morning, has been postponed.

Messrs. J. M. Oat, Jr., & Co. receive our sincere thanks for their kindness in providing us with a late San Francisco paper.

The Japanese goods, imported by Messrs. G. W. Macfarlane & Co., have been rapidly disposed of and the stock is considerably reduced in quantity.

The circus did not return by the Kilauea Hou this morning, but is expected on Tuesday. The company has been most successful on Maui taking $2,000 for a few performances.

The lieutenant and ensigns of the Kerguelen will be pleased at being designated by the Saturday Press as "lieutenant de veau" and "ensign de veau" or "calf's lieutenant" and "calf's ensign."

The deputy sheriff of North Kohala, who was the Government candidate at the recent election, in opposition to Mr. Godfrey Brown, has been removed from office for malfeasance. Mr. Wm. White has been appointed as his successor.

Mr. Cruzan's theme to-morrow morning will be "Contentment." In the evening the sermon will be more especially for those who have doubts about the Bible, and will have for its theme, "Credo! and the Reasons why."

The April term of the Supreme Court commences on Monday morning, at ten o'clock, when all indictments will be presented. The criminal cases against Hawaiians are set down first, for hearing. The foreign jury will not be required till 14th inst.

YESTERDAY two Chinamen with a hand cart met a carriage at the corner of Nuuanu and Queen sts. and all collided. The Chinaman in front of the hand cart was knocked into the air and on to the sidewalk: the cart its contents and the man behind were capsized. The force of the blow stunned the horse.

THERE is such a large and varied assortment of fancy goods to be disposed of, from J. W. Robertson & Co.'s stock, that Messrs Lyons and Levey have decided to postpone the sale till Monday evening in order to have time to display the goods properly. The children's books are of the best kind and would make suitable birthday presents.

The April number of the Church Chronicle is to hand. An article on Sunday Reading is commenced, and reference is made to the usual fate of Honolulu Societies; after referring to the Y. M. C. A. prayer gatherings, the Working Men's Union, the Amateur Musical Society, the Chronicle asks "Is the Dramatic Society dead, or are the members seriously inclined just now?"

They are gone,
The stout craftsmen that hammered the piles,
And the square-toed old boys in the three cornered tiles; The breeches, the buckles, have faded from view,
And the parson's white wig and the ribbon-tied queue.

For the Centennial Dinner, ask for the "Stetson" Hat, not for the queue, from M. McNerny. 680 3t

The French gun boat Kerguelen, which arrived yesterday afternoon, is from Callao, via Lapaz, 19 days numbers 160 men, her engines are 250 horse power, she carries two Hotchkiss guns, two torpedoes and main in port for a fortnight. The cers: Captain, M. Agnor Fournier; tenants, M. de Courson, M. de Lo-stende, M. Bernard; First Surgeon, M. de Champeaux; Assistant Surgeon, M. Canail; Purser, M. Phe-rivong.

GRAPES. Sunday's dinner can be improved by getting some fresh grapes. H. E. McIntyre has now for sale a small quantity of delicious fresh Hawaiian grapes. They were grown by Mr. P. Milton and only

ALMOST A DISASTER.

The tug Donald was lately towing to sea the British bark Victoria Cross and the schooner Ruby A. Cousins.
When nearly opposite Meigs Wharf the anchor of the bark was almost to the water's edge, and from some unknown cause the chain suddenly ran out its whole length, and would have been lost but for the fact of its being made fast to the keelson. The anchor caught and brought the vessel to with a round turn, and such was her momentum that the strain brought her bows down into the water some three or four feet. The schooner coming along in the rear saw the accident, and, casting off the connecting cable, sheered off just in time to prevent a collision.
This was due to the promptness of the captain, and those witnessing the affair are loud in his praise.
The schooner proceeded to sea under sail, and the bark still lies off North Beach.—S. F. Paper.

The new phrase for wiping the floor with a man is: "I will deterge, scour and cleanse the area of this chamber with the collective mass of your ignominious person."—Sydney Bulletin.

The secretary to the Royal Botanical Society is said to have tried the experiment of planting sea-weeds in ordinary earth. It would naturally be supposed that these "flowers of the ocean" would not flourish away from their native element; but this is not the case, most of the specimens planted having grown admirably in soil which is constantly kept in a moist condition.—Ex.
